With Now ?, their 12th album, the quartet No Square continues its journey, seeking a breath of poetry within today's great chaos. Inspired by recent tours across Europe, Africa, and Asia, the music tells the story of life on the road: intense concerts, unexpected encounters, and suspended moments.

True to its identity, the band offers contemporary jazz that is energetic and inventive, where clear melodies intertwine with distinctive rhythmic structures.

Odd meters, subtle shifts, and polyrhythms shape a unique sonic signature. Featuring Nicolas Masson (saxophone), Michael Haudenschild(piano), André Hahne (double bass), and Lionel Friedli (drums), Now ? embodies the momentum of a group in perpetual motion.

Released in collaboration with the Swiss label Altrisuoni,
